RECEIVES INFORMATION ON DEATH OF SON FROM ARMY CHAPLAIN

Mrs. Flo Karnes, Galatia, whose son, the late Pfc. Joe Woolard, died of wounds in Germany on April 13, has received from an Army Chaplain the following information regarding his death:

"Joe was wounded very badly on April 13th. when we had a very hard fight. Joe was among many who were shot by snipers and artillery fire. It was during an attempt to take a town and some bridges in the town that we suffered so many casualties. I saw Joe shortly after he was hit and he was unconscious then. He really did not suffer any pain as he must have become unconscious when he was hit.

"The doctors did everything possible for him but it was to no avail and Joe died a few hours afterward without ever recovering consciousness.

"He was doing a fine job with his company and got along wonderfully. Unfortunately he was hit, because he would have received a promotion for his fine work as a top-rate soldier.

"I was with Joe for quite some time after he was hurt, and I said some prayers for him. Joe was buried in the American Military cemetery in Holland with a chaplain saying prayers for him while he was being buried.

"Again, please accept my sincere sorrow for you and your children; tell them their daddy was a grand
